Newsletter December 2017

Dear Friends

Since writing the previous Newsletter we have had very sad news that Ann Ball has passed away. Both Ann and Don have been long time members of UpARA, and our condolences go to Don and their family.

On a more pleasant note, in November three teams from UpARA together with their supporters attended the KentARA annual Ten Pin Bowling competition in Gravesend. Our Men's and Mixed teams had great fun and acquitted themselves well. Better still, our Ladies won the Ladies' shield.

We now have Christmas and the New Year ahead of us, and this is rightly a time for families, who must come first. However, UpARA is a bit like an extended family, albeit rather one generational, and we hope you will still find time for our activities over the Festive Season. Inevitably there are a few changes to our programme in the next two months, so keep a sharp eye on the noticeboards and our web site. Concerning the web site, we have our calendar for 2018 there, so you can fill in your diaries for the next twelve months. In fact, signup sheets are also available for all of next year.

The calendar is not actually cast in stone, so check it occasionally, especially for new events – Art Classes trial, continuing into New Year; Additional Coffee Morning, waiting for a few more volunteers, and Pilates. Bryn is working very hard on this and, fingers crossed, there will be good news before too long.

A very happy Christmas to you all
